ARMS.

—:0:—

Ar. ten hurts, four, three, two, and one.

Crest, a dexter hand ppr. holding up a shield az.

It is supposed to have been granted about the eleventh century.

Many have been under the impression that our ancestors in England lived in the County of Wiltshire. This is not so. The Hunttons of East Knoyle, Wiltshire, are of an entirely different family from the Huntings of Suffolk. A member of the Hunton family came to America about the same time as John Hunting, and settled near him. The similarity of their names may have caused many to think they were relatives. I have a genealogy of the Hunttons which traces the entire family for several hundred years back, showing no connection whatever with the Huntings. Having corresponded with the compiler of that genealogy for a long time upon the subject, he convinced me that the "Coat of Arms," long thought to have belonged to our family, was really that of the Hunttons. This caused further search to be made, and resulted in there being found at the College of Heraldry, in London, a "Coat of Arms" granted to the Huntings, as is supposed, owing to its simplicity, sometime during the Eleventh Century. This is represented on page 3. The Hunton "Arms" are thus blazoned: "Sable on a chevron, ermine between three talbots passant, argent; Crest, a demi-talbot rampant and erased, argent." Granted in 1578. These were changed soon after by William Hunton to "Ar, on a chev, per pale, gu, and az, between three talbots passant, sa. as many stags' heads caboshed, or; Crest, a demi-talbot, gu, collared and Eared; or, holding between his paws a stag's head caboshed of the first." As this shows two "Arms" for the one family, no doubt some of the Huntings thought one must have belonged to us, and so caused the error that has prevailed for many years.

NAME.

—:O:—

In "Ferguson's English Surnames" we find as follows :
"In a roll call of German officers, given by Mameramis, A. D. 1550, are the names of Hundt, Huntus, and Hontus. Hence, Hunting being a patronymic form, is still more probably the same as Hunding." The Hundings (Hundingus) are supposed to have been the people of Hundland, which is now a part of Denmark.

Again Ferguson says :

"English,	German,	Anglo Saxon,	Locality,
Hunting.	Huntingus.	Huntingas.	Baden."

This is the most satisfactory explanation of the origin of the name we have been able to get.

The first Hunting in America used but one "t" in spelling his name, but those who descended from his grandson Nathaniel, and from the Long Island branch of the family use two.

The compiler of the following pages takes this method of thanking his many friends, for their kindness in forwarding to him, records of their families ; also he wishes to acknowledge his obligations for favors received in the form of copies of records of towns and churches from those not members of the family, but friends of his, and his work.

While some of the family may not appear on these pages, still it contains nearly all of those bearing the name of Hunting or Huntting in America.

He will be thankful for all corrections of errors and omissions, that in case at any future time he should issue another edition of this work, these corrections may appear.

THE HUNTING OR HUNTTING FAMILY IN AMERICA.

EXPLANATION.—Every male known to have had children is numbered in Arabic figures at the left of his name. When referred to a second time as the head of a family, his number will be found in the centre of the page, where his personal history, and list of his children will be given.

The Roman numerals designate the number of children in each family. b. stands for born, m. for married, unm. for unmarried, d. for died, ab. for about.

1

John Hunting, the first of this family in America, was born in England in the year 1597, married Hester Seaborne, who was a second cousin of John Rogers), about 1617, and came to Dedham, Mass., in the spring of 1638. Admitted a freeman March 13, 1639, was one of the founders of the church at Dedham, and its first ruling elder. Previous to his coming to this country he was a "ruling elder," and his living was in the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, England. The first authentic record we have of him, is on the Dedham Register, under date of August 28, 1638, where he "entertayned to purchase John Boledge's lot." After this date, we find, by the church records, he takes an active part in religious affairs. He died April 12, 1689. Buried at Dedham.

Nathaniel, (John<sup>2-1</sup>) b. Nov. 15, 1675; m. Mary Green, 1701; East-Hampton, N. Y.

A graduate of Harvard College in 1693. The second pastor of the Presbyterian Church of East-Hampton, N. Y. He commenced his labors in this field Sept. 1696, and was installed pastor of the Church Sept. 13, 1699. This was his first and only charge. He served in that single church just fifty years, and then through advancing age and increasing infirmities, was at his own request released from the pastoral care Sept. 19, 1746. The old homestead at East-Hampton has always remained in the possession of his descendants, and is held under a grant from King William IV to Josiah Hobart for the rent of one "Pepper Corn" a year, to be paid in the city of "Manhattan," (New-York), and by Hobart was assigned to Nathaniel Hunting. He died Sept. 21, 1753.
